

Welcome to :

“Chai Break”

FUN TIME !

Birthday presents !

- His happiest year was in London. ...
- In less than 10 years, he painted almost 900 paintings. ...
- Only one painting sold during his lifetime. ...
- Only the lobe, not the whole ear was cut off. ..
- He loved sunflowers .

Bharati Kher

- British-Indian contemporary artist.
- painting, sculpture and installation is her cup of chai .!
- often incorporates bindis, the decorative forehead dot worn by women in India.
- Loves elephants

Subodh Gupta

- Incorporated everyday objects like steel tiffin boxes used by millions to carry their lunch,
- His favorite materials were Thali plates, bicycles, and milk pails.
- ". I steal from the drama of Hindu life. And from the kitchen - these pots, they are like stolen gods, smuggled out of the country. Hindu kitchens are as important as prayer rooms." says gupta

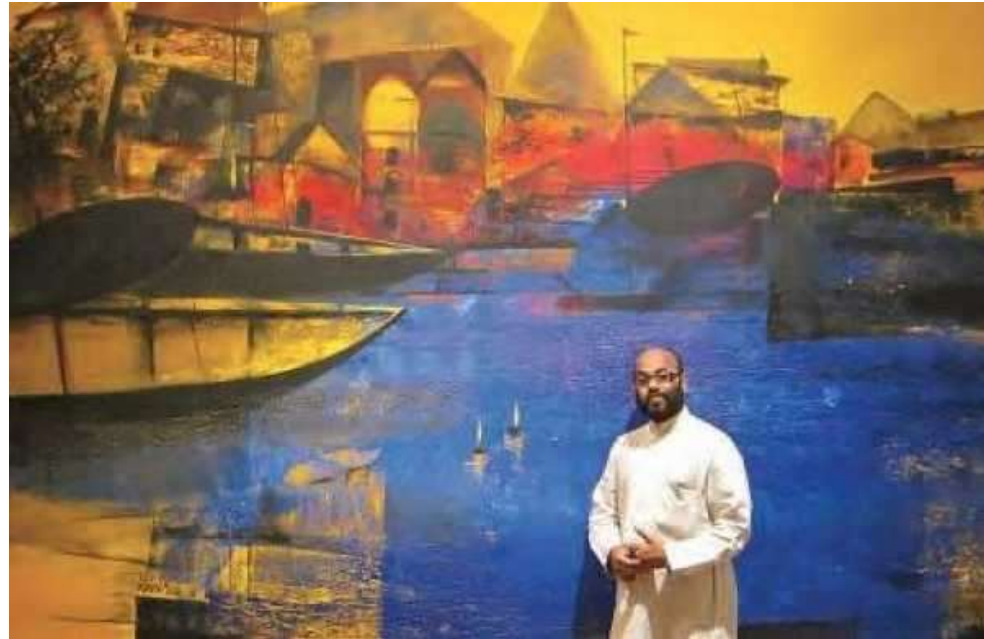

Salvador Dali

- All of the watches in The Persistence of Memory (the painting) tell different times.
- He was famous for his long curly mustache.
- He wrote an autobiography called The Secret Life of Salvador Dali. Some of the stories in the book are true, but some are just made up.
- Dali admired scientist Albert Einstein and was especially interested in his Theory of Relativity.
- He once worked on a film with movie director Alfred Hitchcock.

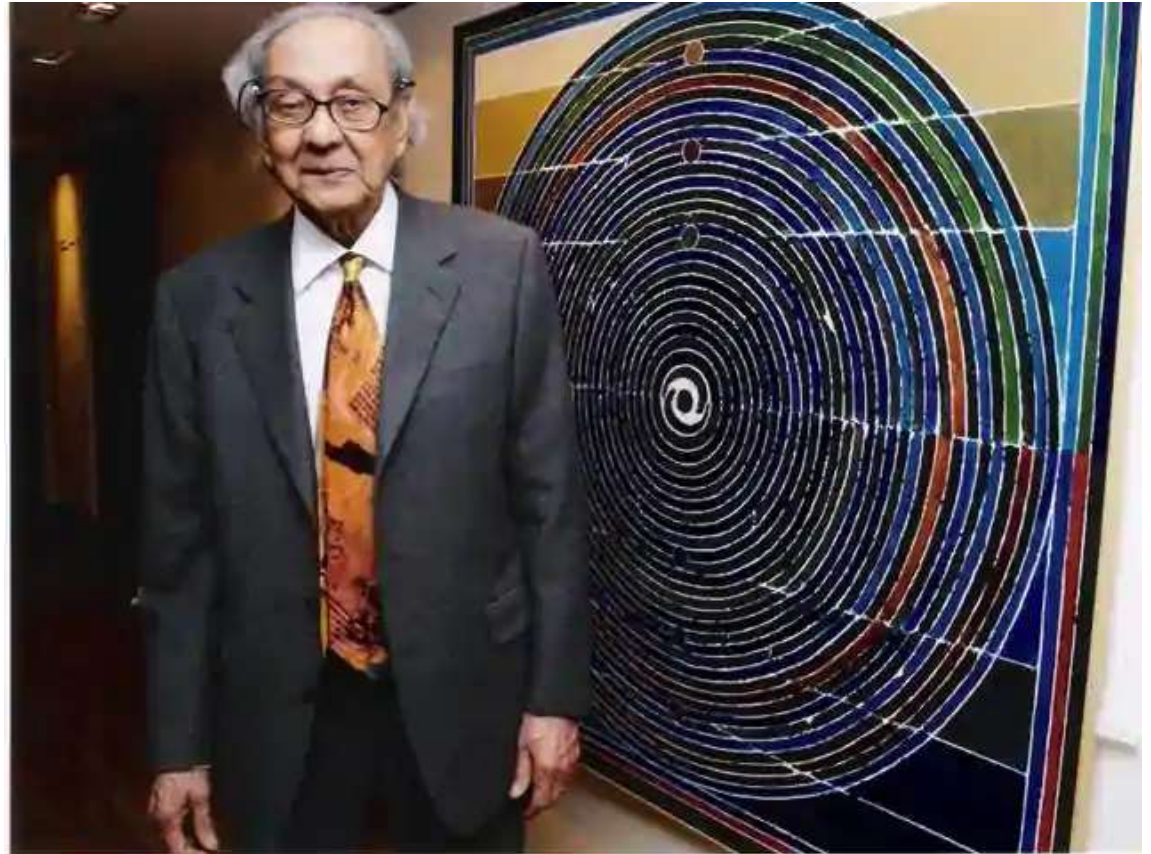

Paresh maity

RAZA

- Son of a forest ranger
- Was unable to concentrate in studies when he was a kid.
- His teacher drew a dot on the board and asked Raza to stare at the dot to develop concentration.
- He loved playing in the forest

NILIMA SHEIKH

Her paintings contain world lexicons, written in a language she has developed over the last four decades. Integrating source materials that range from Turkish, Persian, and Indian manuscript .

Yayoi Kusama

Yayoi Kusama's iconic polka dots are inspired by a hallucination she experienced while looking at a tablecloth as a child.

Yayoi Kusama is considered the most successful living female artist.

She dotted everything around her !

This is an installation by Doug Fishbone- How many bananas are there ?

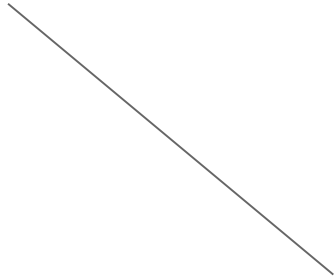

People were asked to take away some bananas from the installation. What do you think they did with the bananas they took ?

Get your pens ,pencils , colors ready !

Copy these lines exactly the way they are on a piece of paper and in the same direction . How can you finish this work? figure out the possibilities to create an entire artwork using just these lines. You can extend the line ,attach other lines to finish your image .

THANK YOU

HOPE YOU ALL ENJOYED THE CHAI TIME ACTIVITIES